SINCE 1972 Protecting Your Right to Ride!

2012 Is Over and We're Off to a Great New 2013 Off-Road Season! by Ed Arinello, President

Well riders, if you're reading this, then your calendar went beyond 12.21.2012 like the rest of ours. You're also probably thrilled to move on from 2012 and into 2013 and see what it has to offer.

From what I see, here are key things 2013 will be bringing us.

A jump start into the off-road motorcycle, trials, ATV, mountain bike, 4WD, rally and even street riding opportunities! Whichever or however you enjoy, 2013 is going to be action packed and full of opportunities.

Here are a few of our key focus points to ensure we help this fund our leading edge and fast growing Youth Safety Education Program (YSEP). We're even working on a plan to help those of us coming in later or just wanting to dial in our skills with OMRA Rider Education & Skill Training Programs. We are slated to start instructions for instructors by March - join in or look for it. We are looking to increase our youth offering and participation. Clubs are looking for new ways to add to the family fun we can offer. We're looking to girls and women to join in and boost the fun even more this year. Get ahold of our club contacts or volunteer to make this a great year for everyone.

With your help we are ready to rebuild, re-open and create access to more areas and trails. The OMRA and some of our partner volunteers and peers are actively in pursuit of new solutions to travel-management issues. A team is moving forward with the advocacy and successful progression of a bill to bring the very safe rider-fit program to motorcycles for our youth. We are pursuing ways to bring access to more single track up as well as improve management and use of multi-use areas. You might hear us pursuing positive sound management actions to ensure our riding for the future. Let us know if you think you can add to our success.

On the competition side of things, the competition committee, OMRA clubs and promoters have worked together to come up with some great ways to make competition more accessible, more fun and more streamlined. If you've got the time and resources to help your club maximize the quality and fun in one of the events, step in and step up to the plate to make it happen! These clubs have been taking notes all year on how to keep improving what we do. Don't just sit on your Iphone, Android, the internet, in the parking lot, in your trailer or on the trail and take up space and time; give something to your investment in fun and this sport. YOU can help make great things happen! Make the call!

So what's in all this for you besides great riding and a whole lot of fun? We are hard at work looking for great benefits for you the riders, rider support, partnerships. discounts. contingencies, awards programs, prizes, donations and corporate grant support. None of this happens without YOU! We are looking for helpers, volunteers, committee members and coordinators from all over the state. Join in the fun of making great things happen. Just call or email any OMRA representative and we will get you in touch with the right person.

So, here we go, you, your family and friends and all of us into a great new 2013! See you on the trail!

OMRA Members and Partners Recognized Nationally!

National Off-Highway Vehicle Conservation Council (NOHVCC), as a national body of OHV recreation enthusiasts, develops and provides a wide spectrum of programs, materials and information, or "tools", to individuals, clubs, associations and agencies in order to further a positive future for responsible OHV recreation. In 2012 there was plenty of recognition from NOHVCC to Oregon.

NOHVCC 2012 State Association of the Year: OMRA

The OMRA was recognized for its strong statewide leadership, support, advocacy and extensive contributions to the Oregon off-road community. Tom Niemela serves as the OMRA representative to the NOHVCC. Tom works diligently to ensure OMRA gets nationwide representation and partnership.

NOHVCC 2012 Outstanding Volunteer of the Year Award: Rick Higgins

At its annual conference in August 2012, NOHVCC awarded Rick Higgins of Hood River. Oregon the 2012 Volunteer of the Year award for his tireless and lengthy history of service in several states including Oregon, Arizona and Washington. In Hood River County alone, he volunteered an average of 400 hours a year on its trail system for over two decades. He is a member of the Hood River County Recreational Trails Committee representing the Motorized Group and currently president of the Columbia Gorge Off-Road Association, which provides numerous volunteers to support the Hood River County trail system.

NOHVAA Special Recognition Award: Dave Hiatt

The Special Recognition Award recognizes a state, provincial or federal program administrator, or leader of a non-profit club, for significant achievement in contributing to and furthering the sport of OHV recreation. For 2012, the new award went to Dave Hiatt, OHV Recreation Specialist in the Oregon Department of Forestry's Tillamook District.

"Dave has made significant positive changes in the state of Oregon and we want to thank him for all he's done," said Minnesota DNR's Ron Potter in presenting the award. "He's a very avid rider and enthusiast and is aware of what is needed. He's created very sustainable trails, and has made great improvements to the trail facilities in his area. He's moved a lot of trails off the road and put them in the woods where they should be. And he's done this without a lot of support, doing what he knows is the right thing to do."

Winter Riding can be AWESOME in the Northwest! by Ed Arinello, President

Winter is setting in, prep for a great and safe ride. Winter riding here in the Northwest can be deadly. Even if you subscribe to the school of thought that if you get stuck out there or injured, you'll just set your bike on fire and people will come running. Remember even having enough fuel and radiator fluid can present a challenge in these conditions. Check the day and overnight forecast. BE PREPARED!

cold weather gear - beanie, H20 proof gear and H20 proof gloves, warm & cool layers, warm socks, goggle wipes, and no-fog cloth.

YOU & OTHER RIDER SAFETY - snacks for overnight, matches, fire starter, knife/multiplier, safety blanket/shelter, flashlight, batteries, map, and first Aid kit

*Shield Radiators and carb from debris and cold snow

Winter Riding in Oregon by Tom Niemela

That time of the year has come. The sun has gone into hibernation, the skies have darkened, the soil is saturated, the long delay before riding in luscious loam is many moons away, and the whining by riders unable to ride has commenced. Most riders find a corner of their garage and park their rides. Don't abandon hope, there is still riding to be had in the winter in Oregon!

East - For the eastern half of the state. vou are destined for snow and ice. and riding of a different sort has just presented itself. Normal, soft-terrain bumpy tires will get you plenty of places if there is dirt under the blanket of snow, but it can be very sketchy if icv. so consider riding with studded tires! It offers double opportunities into your riding season simply at the cost of studding and tire changing. There are a number of options for "studding up" ranging from Trelleborg or Michelin studded tires, stud addons (dirtstuds.com or koldkutter.com). basic car studs or even the simplicity of standard screws. There are plenty of articles out on the web that discuss the pros and cons of each, (stay with carbide tips if you can) so check them out!

Snow depth can be a limiting factor, as once it gets over your axles, your foot pegs start to drag and solid traction for the studs to connect with are farther down. Also be careful of obstacles you cannot see due to the deeper snow, such as rocks and stumps – don't ask how I know! Ideal conditions for studded tires are when the snow is frozen hard on top. You can then go almost anywhere and not have to worry about sinking into the crust and/or hitting stumps and rocks.

Other considerations when out winter riding are for everyone to bring a small saw or wood zig in your backpack. There WILL be windfalls and, instead of riding over or around the fallen wood, cut a path out of that obstacle! You may already be cold, so this is an opportunity to warm up and help with trail maintenance. And since there really is not that many people out riding in winter, your path will be opened for your next outing.

You might also want to bring along warming items, such as pocket heaters or hand warmers, electric grip heaters, etc. I don't personally have grip heaters, but my friends swear by them. Other warming ideas are, when stopped, take off your gloves and set them on your muffler, which is always slightly cooler, but still hot enough, to warm them up, as opposed to setting them on the exhaust (as it exits the motor), therefore not burning a hole in your gloves. Wrap some electrical tape around your levers, so the cold metal does not transfer into your digits.

West-The west side of our great state has considerably much more foliage and obstacles. Studded tires apply here also! Items you've feared in the past winters such as roots, logs and ice now become traction! The only real spot to back off the gas and brakes is when on rocks, otherwise pin it and have a blast!

On the west side, we as riders must be more considerate of our fragile trail systems, as erosion and Ma Nature can wreak havoc. Carrying a way to cut out windfalls applies here too, and should be a requirement by every responsible off-road rider!

Another often - disregarded consideration for the west side is to NOT ride up trails that can be damaged, especially if you do not yet have the skill set to get up most hills. Set up your ride to use existing roads to get to the top. and then ride down the trails during winter if possible. Most new riders get stuck on an uphill and will then spin their rear tire down to China in a feeble effort of forward motion. Don't do that! Before the start of each ride. tell your buddies the same thing! And while you're out there, if you see a big puddle developing on the trail, stop, grab a stick and create a drainage for the water to escape. Little things like this can really help in keeping our trails sustainable for the future.

Whether you are riding in the east or west, fabricate a way to keep your carburetor from freezing – again don't ask how I know! What will happen is your carb will become packed in with snow and the slide will freeze, generally in an open state and won't shut down, therefore inducing high amounts of fear and adrenaline as you rocket wide-eyed towards that big cedar tree! Folks with EFI probably get off scott free on this issue.

So take heart, dress in appropriate layers, and have a blast this winter!

Tips for Your Winter Riding by Tom Niemela

As riders, we all learn things as we go, whether from (sometimes bitter) experience, or from others. Below are just a few tips that may help you out with your winter riding.

- KTM: These great bikes are not known for being very waterproof. There are holes in the airbox big enough to drive a Jeep through! One suggestion is to get some open-pore foam (like from air conditioners) and glue a piece between the rear of the seat and rear fender, therefore filling the entire gap width. This helps when fording deep streams, but especially when washing your bike, therefore keeping all the mud and water from descending into your sensitive airbox.
- [KTM] Coolant: KTMs have another shortcoming no radiator overflow bottle. When you run your engine hot, it expels the expanding coolant onto the ground, therefore limiting the amount of coolant you have in the radiator. I suggest all you KTM riders install an overflow bottle similar to this: rlrproducts.com This is especially helpful when running hard in deep snow.
- Grip: safety wire those bad boys with at least two (three is preferred) strips of wire, so when riding in the rain, the grips will not come loose.

- Silicone Spray: I personally lube up ANY moving part after washing my bike. This includes front fork seals, rear shock shaft, swingarm and linkage (if applicable), axles, rear-brake pivot, footpegs, kickstarter, levers, throttle tube, etc. The advantage of silicone spray is that it mildly lubricates, repels water, plus does not absorb dust when dry out. Try it. I personally still use WD-40 on the chain, then lube it again with real chain lube before the next outing.
- Goggles: Double-pane lenses. Try them and your fogging problems will end. There's a reason why ski goggles have double lenses. Also use a No-Fog Cloth for the inside of the lens and Rain-X for the outside (if raining). If dry out, use Pledge furniture polish on the lens, as it fills scratches, adds a small layer of silicone wax and smells lemon fresh.
- Studded Tires: read elsewhere in this issue about this awesome winter trick!
- Fuel: run non-ethanol gas. The internet is riddled with all the bad things that can happen to our expensive power plants when adding alcohol just say no! This is more important to two-cycle engines. Check the web for non-ethanol stations near you or run aviation gas.
- Fuel Filter: always install one of those clear, Gemini space-capsule looking inline fuel filters on all your bikes, otherwise you will be sorry. EFI motors need not worry.
- Sparking Plug: if running in a lot of snow, your motor gets run very hard, so you might consider running one heat range colder, which is normally a higher number, i.e. if you run an NGK BP8ES plug, consider running a BP9ES.
- Levers: if you ride correctly, your digits are constantly in contact with your clutch and front-brake levers. The metal is cold and transfers directly to your pinkies. I suggest adding friction tape, cloth-athletic tape or shrink-wrap tubing to your levers to lessen the cold.

Hopefully those few tips will help you get through the winter doldrums. And if your wallet needs lightened, there's also the option of purchasing a snowbike! Happy trails!

RULE CHANGE SUMMARY FOR 2013

Once again, the OMRA racing season has come to an end, and with it, a new set of rules has been proposed to help make 2013 even better than 2012. These proposals were voted on at the annual Calendar and Rules Meeting, and I think that we've made some very promising changes for next year's season:

- 1) In both the GP and XC series, only a rider's eight best finishes will count towards the championship. The single most common reason we heard for people not competing in our series is that there were too many races. People expressed a desire to race for the championship, but couldn't afford to commit to 12 or 13 races per year, so they just didn't come to any of them. By lessening the number of races that count towards the championship to eight, we hope to bring in more families to each event.
- 2) To qualify for a year-end trophy, you must compete in 6 races. The old rule stated that you must compete in 50% of the total number of races to earn a year-end trophy. Now, that number is set at six.
- 3) An ISDE test series will run within the XC series. Each ISDE on the XC calendar will be a dual point-paying event counting for both ISDE and XC points. For 2013, the cost for entering the ISDE series will be reduced, and the year-end awards will be a certificate rather than a trophy. We will be keeping track of year-end points and attendance, and if the series is successful, (with good turnouts for the ISDE points chasers) it will be adopted as a full-on competition series (still to be run within the XC series) for 2014. Specifics for how much the series will cost to enter and other details are still being solidified, but an announcement will be made at the annual Awards Banquet in February.
- 4) For 2013, there will no longer be a VetAA class. Over the past two years, the VetAA attendance has been too small to justify an entire class. Additionally, no rider 38 years old and older will be required to ride the AA class.
- 5) The number of required AA riders is reduced from 10 to 7. This adjustment was made to accommodate for the low attendance we experienced in 2012.
- 6) The Beginner Class will now be a half-course class. Previously, the Beginner Class ran the full course and full distance. Now they will only be required to ride half the distance like the 50, 60, Women, Junior, and Sportsman classes.
